These are the terms and conditions of business ("Terms") on which Argonaut Securities Pty Limited ("Argonaut", "we", "us" or "our") accepts and executes Orders for you ("you"), as an institutional equities client.

These Terms are legally binding as a contract between Argonaut and you from the time you next give an Order to Argonaut to enter into a Transaction after having received a copy of these Terms. By placing an Order, you agree to be bound by these Terms as amended from time to time.

1. APPOINTMENT OF ARGONAUT

Argonaut's authority

- 1.1 You appoint Argonaut as your agent for the purpose of handling and executing Orders in accordance with these Terms, and to do all things necessary or incidental to the execution, clearing and settlement of resulting Transactions or which are required to be done, or which are customarily done, under Applicable Law in connection with those Orders or Transactions.

2. ORDERS AND INSTRUCTIONS

Form of Orders and instructions

- 2.1 Argonaut may accept Orders or instructions from you given verbally or in writing. Argonaut is not required to confirm the particulars of any Order or instruction unless you specifically request Argonaut to provide such a confirmation.
- 2.2 Subject to these Terms and our Execution Policy, Argonaut shall use all reasonable endeavours to carry out your request but shall be under no liability for any loss or expense you incur by reason of any delay or error in the transmission or execution of Orders (other than from our gross negligence, fraud or dishonesty) or from any change in market conditions before the Transaction is effected.

Authorised Persons

- 2.3 Argonaut may rely on and treat as valid any Order, instruction, notice or communication Argonaut reasonably believes to have been given by an Authorised Person, and you will be bound by that Order, instruction, notice or communication. Argonaut will not be responsible for the verification of the authenticity of any Order, instructions, notice or communication it reasonably believes to be from you.

Propriety of Orders

- 2.4 You are responsible for all Orders which you submit to Argonaut including, without limitation, Orders generated by algorithms developed or used by you. In placing an Order, you represent to Argonaut that:

- (a) neither the Order nor any Transaction arising from such Order is in breach of any Applicable Law;

- (b) you have the power and authority to place the Order and to enter into the Transaction; and
- (c) you are able to meet all obligations in connection with the Transaction.

- 2.5 We may do whatever we consider (acting reasonably) is required to comply with any Applicable Law, and shall not be required to do anything or refrain from doing anything if this would, in our opinion (acting reasonably), contravene any Applicable Law.

Right to refuse to deal

- 2.6 Argonaut may, in its absolute discretion refuse to accept, place or execute an Order, or limit the volume of Orders or Transactions it will process for you. Argonaut is not liable to you for any Loss incurred or suffered by you as a result of such refusal or limitation. Argonaut will inform you of the refusal or limitation at the time you seek to place the Order or as soon as reasonably practicable after that time.

Use of Third Party Brokers

- 2.7 You authorise Argonaut to appoint a Third Party Broker (including without limitation, another Argonaut Company) to execute Orders where the Order is to be executed on a market or exchange of which Argonaut is not a participant (for example, a market outside Australia). In respect of such Orders, the Third Party Broker (and not Argonaut) is responsible for ensuring the execution, clearing and settlement of any resulting Transactions in accordance with any terms and conditions which govern their provision of those services and you will be responsible to the Third Party Broker for any such Transactions in accordance with those terms and conditions.

Errors or omissions and cancellations

- 2.8 You authorise Argonaut to, and agree that Argonaut may, request or agree to the cancellation or amendment of an Order or Transaction, without your consent, where:
- (a) Argonaut is unable to contact you and decides, in its discretion (acting reasonably), that it is desirable to cancel or amend the Order or Transaction to maintain a fair and orderly market, provided that Argonaut promptly notifies you of such cancellation or amendment thereafter;
- (b) any Regulator or Market Infrastructure Operator requests or directs Argonaut to cancel or amend the Order or Transaction for any reason, including market integrity reasons, or where the market was operating under an error;
- (c) the cancellation or amendment is effected pursuant to or as contemplated by any Applicable Law; or
- (d) you have failed to perform any of your obligations under these Terms.

- 2.9 You agree not to make, and release each Argonaut Person from any right you may have to make, any claim against one or more of them for any Loss which may arise in connection with the exercise by Argonaut or any other Argonaut Person of its rights under clause 2.8 or in connection with the exercise by a Regulator to cancel an Order or Transaction (whether or not Argonaut has given you a confirmation in respect of any affected Transaction).

Aggregation and Averaging

2.10 Unless you have expressly instructed us to the contrary, and to the extent permitted by any Applicable Law, Argonaut may aggregate your Orders with Orders of other clients and Orders from its prescribed persons (as prescribed under any Applicable Law) as principal in the following circumstances:

- (a) where your Order or Orders are received overnight or prior to market open; or
- (b) where your Order or Orders are received during normal hours at around the same time as other orders, or where Argonaut considers that it is in the best interests of you or its clients generally to aggregate the orders.

2.11 Transactions executed for you as part of an aggregated Order will be allocated to you at an average price in accordance with our Execution Policy, a copy of which is available on request.

Risk and Financial Limits

2.12 Argonaut may in its absolute discretion impose risk or other financial limits on your ability to place Orders and execute Transactions in one or more financial products through Argonaut. Argonaut will notify you of any such limits or changes to such limits before, or as soon as practicable after such limits are imposed or changed.

Short Selling

2.13 In this clause 2, a "Covered Short Sale" means a sell Order, in circumstances where you have entered into or gained the benefit of a securities lending arrangement before you placed the sell Order, and you intend that some or all of the financial products that are the subject of the sale will be vested in the buyer.

2.14 You agree that each time you place a sell Order with Argonaut for execution on a Licensed Market (such as ASX and CBOE), you will notify Argonaut whether or not the sell Order is a Covered Short Sale and, if so, provide to Argonaut the following information that you are obliged to notify Argonaut in accordance with section 1020AB(3) of the Corporations Act (the "Information"):

- (a) the number of financial products that you will vest in the buyer under the securities lending arrangement;
- (b) a description of the financial products sold;
- (c) the name of the listed entity that issued the financial products sold.

2.15 Provision of this information to Argonaut does not absolve you from your reporting obligations under any Applicable Law. You acknowledge and agree that Argonaut will not be permitted to execute a sell Order unless Argonaut has been notified whether or not your sell Order is a Covered Short Sale and, if it is, you have provided Argonaut with the Information.

2.16 Each time you place a sell Order with Argonaut which is a Covered Short Sale, you will be taken to have represented and warranted to Argonaut that:

- (a) the Information is true and correct; and
- (b) you have complied with the requirements and conditions of the Corporations Act, the Corporations Regulations 2001 (Cth), ASIC Class Orders (if any) (as amended from time to time) or regulatory guidance issued by ASIC from time to time relating to Covered Short Sales.

- (a) if Argonaut entered into the Transaction as principal acting on its own behalf; and
- (b) if the Transaction was executed as a crossing, the execution code for the execution venue for the crossing.

You may notify Argonaut if you do not want to receive the notification under this clause 3.2, and acknowledge that the consequences of you opting out of such notification include that you will not be informed in a situation where Argonaut enters into your Transaction as principal acting on its own behalf or if the Transaction was executed as a crossing.

3.3 You authorise Argonaut to:

- (a) send confirmations and statements in paper or electronic form, on the basis that Argonaut does not guarantee the security, confidentiality or absence of viruses or other harmful material in electronic communications;
- (b) send a single confirmation or statement for a series of Transactions (whether those Transactions have been effected on one or more Markets or otherwise);

- (c) show an average price for a series of Transactions on the confirmation; and
- (d) issue a replacement confirmation or statement to correct an error or omission, or if required by any Applicable Law.

3.4 You are taken to have agreed that the content of a confirmation or statement is correct unless you communicate an objection to Argonaut before the opening of trading on the next trading day for the Market following the day of receipt by you of the confirmation or statement.

- (c) if the Third Party Clearer assigns any such debt to Argonaut, the assigned debt will be an obligation owed to Argonaut, and Argonaut will have all of the rights against you in respect of that debt that the Third Party Clearer had (whether under any Application Law, the Disclosure Statement or otherwise).

ANNEXURE – EXECUTION POLICY

Argonaut as a market participant of the ASX and CBOE is required under Part 3.8 of the ASIC Market Integrity Rules (Securities Markets) 2017 ("Market Integrity Rules") to take reasonable steps to obtain the best outcome for its clients when handling and executing client Orders. This disclosure sets out Argonaut's approach to providing the best outcome in executing Orders in Equity Market Products in respect of Institutional Clients. Equity Market Products has the meaning given to it in the Market Integrity Rules.

For the purposes of this policy, "reasonable steps" means that Argonaut will act in accordance with this policy, given the available resources in order to achieve the best outcome for the client. Argonaut does not guarantee that it will always be able to provide best execution on each and every occasion.

Best outcome means different things for different clients as delineated below.

Argonaut may decline to accept any instruction or Order given by you. A reference to an Order in this disclosure is an Order which Argonaut accepts from you.

Execution Venues

Argonaut may execute or match your Order on any of the following trading systems or platforms ("Execution Venues") that facilitate trading in quoted securities of entities listed on the ASX and/or CBOE:

- ASX TradeMatch;
- ASX Centre Point;
- CBOE; and
- Any other order book offered by the ASX or CBOE market operators.

For Orders from Institutional Clients, Argonaut will direct the client's Order to an execution venue or execution venues that satisfies Argonaut's obligation to take reasonable steps to obtain the best outcome for the client.

All Orders will be managed by Argonaut Designated Trading Representatives (DTRs).

Institutional Clients

For Institutional Clients, best outcome will include consideration of factors relevant to you as an Institutional Client when you provide instructions to execute an Order. These include, but are not limited to, price, execution costs, speed, likelihood of execution and settlement, size, nature and any other consideration relevant to the execution of the Order in question. The best outcome for a particular transaction will be determined by the relative importance given by Argonaut to these factors. In determining the relative importance of these factors, Argonaut will take into account the following criteria:

- your own characteristics including your categorisation as a client;
- the characteristics of your Order; and
- the characteristics of the Equity Market Products that are the subject of the Order.

Although Argonaut would ordinarily expect price to have a high degree of importance relative to the other factors, its precise importance in the context of any given Order will depend upon the criteria specified above and may also be affected by any specific instructions that you give to us. For an Order which is large, relative to market volumes, the timing of execution and the market impact of that Order will be a major consideration.

Specific instructions

If Argonaut receives specific instructions from you about how your Order should be handled, which is inconsistent with obtaining the best total consideration and Argonaut accepts that Order, Argonaut will take reasonable steps to handle and execute that Order in a way which satisfies your instructions. Any specific instruction must be clear and unambiguous. You should be aware that a specific instruction may result in you not obtaining the best outcome. Argonaut reserves the right to refuse any specific instructions.

Where your specific instruction relates to only part of the handling and execution process in relation to an Order and Argonaut accepts that instruction, Argonaut will continue to comply with the best execution policy for the remainder of the factors which are not covered by the specific instruction.

For Institutional Clients, any specific instruction may be on an Order by Order basis or may be a standing instruction. As an Institutional Client, you may also in effect give Argonaut an "opt-out" instruction that Argonaut is not required to use reasonable endeavours to obtain the best outcome when Argonaut handles and executes your Orders. Argonaut reserves the right to not accept any standing or "opt-out" instruction from an Institutional Client. If Argonaut accepts a standing instruction or an "opt-out" instruction, Argonaut will act on that instruction for 12 months, after which you must give the instruction again if it is to continue to apply.

If Argonaut rejects an Order that is subject to specific instructions, the Order will not be executed by Argonaut. It would be a breach of the Market Integrity Rules for Argonaut to execute the Order ignoring the specific instruction. Accordingly, if you wish Argonaut to execute the Order ignoring those specific instructions, you will need to resubmit the rejected Order without the specific instructions.

Arrangements

Orders received from you will be dealt with fairly and in turn in accordance with Argonaut's internal policies and procedures which comply with Rule 5.1.4 of the ASIC Market Integrity Rules. This means among other things that:

- your Orders will be executed in the sequence in which they are received as expeditiously as possible;
- your Orders take precedence over an Argonaut principal order where there is doubt about the timing of Orders received; and
- your instructions are never used to your disadvantage.

All Orders will be executed through our established electronic systems accessing the ASX and CBOE's central limit order book.

Systems failure

When Argonaut experiences a system failure or other circumstance that affects its ability to transmit Orders to an Execution Venue, Argonaut may execute Orders in a manner that differs from the best execution arrangements set out in this disclosure. Argonaut will make every effort to execute Orders on the best terms available in the relevant circumstances.
